

Consulting Foresters

Consulting foresters are professional foresters who provide a variety of services to landowners on a fee basis. They are experienced in providing competent forest management advice and gathering technical information that will stand up in a court of law. Consulting fees will vary depending upon individual circumstances. Services that consulting foresters may offer include advice on marketing timber, inventorying forests to establish depletion accounts, tax and estate services related to forestlands, and tree appraisals associated with damage or timber theft that may require legal counsel.

The below list of Consulting Foresters is made up of foresters who have a degree in forestry and have graduated from a University accredited by the Society of American Foresters.
